DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 25 November 2008 has been entered.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 3 is objected to because of the following informalities: Claim 3 has been listed twice in the pending claims. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-3 and 12-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by McNamara et al. (5,400,768).

5. Regarding claims 1 and 20, McNamara et al. disclose a device capable of being used for endoluminal protection comprising an access member (22, see figure 1) that is tubular with a lumen there through. The access member has a distal end (38) that is blunt and a window (44) defined by a radial arc (as shown by angle 58, see figure 3) that is about 90 degrees around the longitudinal axis of the access member.

6. Regarding claims 2 and 13-15, a slot (42) is in communication with the window and the distal end of the device. The slot runs approximately parallel to the longitudinal axis of the access member and is shorter in length than the length of the window (see figure 1).

7. Regarding claims 3, 19, 21 and 22, a housing (60) is disposed at the proximal end of the access member and is capable of providing insufflation gasses through the lumen of the access member.

8. Regarding claim 12, the window has a longitudinal dimension greater than the dimension defined by the arc, and is also longer than a length of the slot.

9. Regarding claims 16-18 and 23, the access member can be made from polymeric (plastic) materials (see column 6, lines 21-24) that are flexible enough to pass through a gastrointestinal tract.

Response to Arguments

10. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3 and 12-23 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
